

NGOOT STORY TELLING: THEME – THE NGOOT HORROR STORY

Introduction:

Horror stories are unsettling stories designed to frighten and panic, cause dread and alarm, and to invoke our hidden worst fears, often in a terrifying, shocking finale, while captivating and entertaining us at the same time in a cathartic experience.

Horror stories effectively centre on the dark side of life, the forbidden, and strange and alarming events. They deal with our most primal nature and its fears: our nightmares, our vulnerability, our alienation, our revulsions, our terror of the unknown, our fear of death and dismemberment, loss of identity, etc.

With one horror unfolding in the woods, not too far away another was taking place at a little farting village called Oldbury. At the church on the hill, John the “Anti Christ” was unearthing skulls from the graveyard and holding them up for sacrificial worship.

“I am the Northern One, the only one to take all you Southern Pussies on” he was heard to mutter

Only one person could save the day the “Thorn” who endeavours to talk people into an early grave.

But “Rob the bard” may have a song that is so bad it shuts everyone up before the Anti Christ turns Team 2 into a bunch of Dossers!

“Not ‘The Anti Christ’, the ‘Thorn’, ‘Piss Head’, ‘Ad’rain Barnyard’ or his Pandora ‘Tina Bunions’’.

Team 5, Oxford:

Ralph the Mouse has been found up many a skirt in the past. This could explain why a lady like Mike Sharpcock is running frantically through the woods and why Janet threw a bucket of water over Ralph earlier.

Only Huw ‘Hairband’ knows how to stop the ‘Firm Fetal’ from over-throwing the constriction and replace that constriction with a blank sheet.

Not even a farting fit from the ‘Piss Head’ or a stripping spree from Lady Shapcock can stop them now.
